

4.2.1 Spatial Accuracy Review

Spatial accuracy will be evaluated through a visual inspection procedure, comparisons with other data and actual field measurements where appropriate. The visual inspection will be performed by comparing the new GIS features with existing GIS features, survey control data or surveyed features, and digital orthophotos where available. Any anomalies uncovered during the inspection will be identified and the Data Provider notified for correction or further investigation.